

"A Perfect Woman Nobly Planned To Warn, to Comfort and Command"

Nature never intended woman to be delicate, ailing, or a sufferer from "nerves." Women in middle age complain of "hot flashes." Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood, and from motherhood to middle life, with backache, or headache, dizziness, faintness, or bearing-down sensations. For a permanent relief from these distressing symptoms nothing is so good as

as a soothing and strengthening, nerve-alays and subdues nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, and other distressing symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the feminine organs. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules.

The "Favorite Prescription" is known everywhere and for over 40 years as the standard remedy for the diseases of women. Your dealer in medicines sells it in liquid or tablet form; or you can send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription tablets. Address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Soybeans a Coming Crop.

The soybean plant is an erect growing annual, producing a considerable amount of seed in small pods near the stem. It grows to a height of two or three feet and when cut before the seeds ripen makes good hay. If allowed to mature, it becomes most too woody for hay but the seed is very valuable for feed. It is sometimes grown as a silage crop or to plow down as a green manure. The different varieties mature in from 70 to 100 days.

If grown for hay or for pasture or to be used as a green manure, the seed should be sown on a well prepared seed bed about May 20 to 25 in Central Missouri, and about May 10 to 15 in South Missouri, putting it in with a grain drill at the rate of four or five pecks per acre. They may be seeded as late as June 20th.

Soybeans may be grown in the corn either to be hogged down or to be put into the silo. For these purposes they should be planted with the corn, using about equal quantities of corn and soy beans. This is more satisfactory than seeding between the rows at the last cultivation.

If grown for seed, soybeans may be seeded in rows about thirty inches apart, using a peck and a half of seed per acre. They may be put in at this distance with the grain drill by stopping part of the holes. This allows of cultivation and, ordinarily, increases seed production.

Under Missouri conditions, the best varieties for hay are: Medium Yellow, Mongol and Black Beauty. For seed production Morse, Black Beauty, Medium Yellow, Ito San, and Hollybrooke are all good varieties.

The soy bean is a leguminous plant, having free nitrogen gathering bacteria on its roots. For this reason it is usually best to inoculate the soil with the proper bacteria, although on rich land, soybeans do fairly well without soil inoculation.

One of the best ways to inoculate a field for soybeans is by giving a light dressing of soil from a field which has been successfully inoculated for the crop and upon which the plants have shown a good development of root nodules.

GOOD NEWS

Many Lexington Readers Have Heard It and Profited Thereby.

"Good news travels fast," and the thousand of bad back sufferers in this vicinity are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is bad no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Thousands upon thousands of people are telling the good news of their experience with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading:

William C. Wolf, retired farmer, Loess St., Plattsburg, Mo., says: "My kidneys were too free in action and I had to get up several times at night. My back ached and if I stooped or lifted, sharp pains annoyed me. It was hard for me to straighten after stooping. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and two or three boxes gave me more relief than any other remedy I had ever tried. The action of my kidneys was regulated and the pain and lameness in my back was relieved."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

"Nearly all those Wagons and Buggies are Studebakers"

Every year over one hundred thousand Studebaker vehicles are sold.

This tells you what the farmers of the country think of the Studebaker wagons.

This appreciation has been constantly growing for sixty years.

This appreciation has been earned by the determination of Studebaker to produce an honestly built wagon that will do a full day's work and keep on doing it, and not to build a cheap one.

The man who buys the Studebaker gets all the improvements gained by the experience of two generations of wagon builders.
